

LANCE HEDQUIST
City Administrator
City of South Sioux City

Lance is a lifelong resident of South Sioux City. He grew up in South Sioux City and returned after attending college at Wayne State where he graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1972.

Lance is recognized as a leader and innovator in the tri-state area and across Nebraska for his foresightedness to lead one of the most progressive cities in the state. Due to his leadership and foresightedness, the City of South Sioux City has succeeded in receiving the 2003 All America City Award, one of the nation's most prestigious awards and the 2003 Nebraska Showcase Community Award, the state of Nebraska's most esteemed award - in the same year!

Lance has served as City Administrator since 1980, has dedicated his life to public service and cares very much about the community, its citizens and employees. He works tirelessly to make South Sioux City a better place to live, enriching the quality of life for all and always planning for the future.

Lance is currently is on the Board for Loess Hills Resource and Conservation District; Siouxland Interstate Metropolitan Planning Council - Executive Committee Member; Nebraska Public Power District Resource Advisory - Committee Member; Nebraska Economic Developers Association - Member; Siouxland Economic Development Committee - Member; and Siouxland Regional Marketing Committee - Member. He has served as Past President on the following committees: Keep Northeast Nebraska Beautiful, Nebraska City Managers, Nebraska Development Network, Northeast Nebraska Development District, and Nebraska League of Municipalities - Utility Section.

Lance and his wife, Jean, have two grown sons. Nick - who lives in Washington, DC; and Chris, his wife Misty and their daughter, Ashley - live in South Sioux City.